THE PRESIDENT AND PROFESSORS
OF COLLEGE MISERICORDIA
TO ALL THOSE TO WHOSE KNOWLEDGE THESE DOCUMENTS
MAY COME GREETINGS AND PEACE IN THE LORD

Humanism, detached from the illuminating inspiration of Sacred Theology, may easily deteriorate into learned levity, sophisticated pedantry, or irresponsible morality. The philologist and the philosopher in their pursuit of truth need Divine Wisdom as the integrating force which will give proper order, professional dignity, significant direction and profound value to their lives and to their academic endeavors. The Christian humanist is more than a man of letters in the superficial connotation of that term. He is a penetrating observer of oral and written literary expression. He respects words, because they symbolize ideas and reveal truth perceived by human intelligence. He discerns in words the manifold though limited reflections of the Eternal Word, the Logos, ultimate Source of all Truth.

In this Silver Jubilee year of his ordination to the holy priesthood, Right Reverend Monsignor James T. Clarke well deserves the title of Christian humanist. He has been educated in the classical tradition of liberal arts studies and has assimilated the urbane culture resulting from purposeful, intelligent travel. His special field of interest is theology and philosophy. In the Scranton Public High School and in St. Thomas College, Scranton, he acquired a solid basis for liberal arts studies. At St. Bernard Seminary, Rochester, New York, and at the Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome, Italy, he completed the prescribed courses leading to the degree of Licentiate in Sacred Theology.

After receiving the Sacrament of Holy Orders, Monsignor Clarke has held a series of responsible positions: He has been Chaplain of Bishop Hafey Council, Knights of Columbus; assistant chaplain and later chaplain at College Misericordia and the Provincial House of the Sisters of Mercy in Dallas; professor of philosophy and theology at College Misericordia; a member of the President's Council and a member of the Board of Trustees of College Misericordia. Monsignor's intellectual endowments and educational interests have brought additional duties: He is currently Director of Vocations, examiner of the Junior Clergy, and Censor librorum in the Diocese of Scranton. He is a member of the Commission on Discipline in the new Pius X Seminary and for several years has been contributing editor of the Catholic Light. In 1960 Monsignor Clarke was raised to the dignity of Domestic Prelate by His Holiness Pope John XXIII, now gloriously reigning.

That his scholarly achievements may be officially recognized and that his loyal and generous dedication to the cause of Christian humanism in higher education may be formally acknowledged, the President and Professors of College Misericordia proudly create and proclaim

DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS, Honoris causa

And that he might enjoy all the rights and privileges attached to this our highest honor, and that this our act be known to all men, we have signed our names to these presents and thereto affixed the Seal of the College. Given at Dallas, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on this twenty-sixth day of May, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-Three and the year of our College, the thirty-ninth.

President Sister Mary Celestine, R.S.M.

Dean Sister Marianna, R.S.M.

PRESENTATION OF MERCY AWARD TO
THE HONORABLE DANIEL J. F. FLOOD

When Mother Catherine McAuley first founded the Sisters of Mercy in Dublin, Ireland, her purpose was simply to assist the poor of her native city. The improvement of social welfare soon caused her Sisters to assume duties of teaching and nursing, with the result that their schools and hospitals have spread throughout the world.

It is truly fitting, therefore, that the Sisters of Mercy of College Misericordia should pay homage this evening to the Honorable Daniel J. F. Flood, distinguished citizen of our community, our commonwealth, and our nation. His unselfish and reliable public service in behalf of rich and poor alike has been manifested on occasions too numerous to mention. From the time that Congressman Flood first completed his studies at Harvard and Dickinson Law Schools and then embarked on his legal career, he proved his vital interest in human affairs. As attorney for the Home Owners Loan Corporation, Deputy Attorney General for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Counsel for the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, Director of the Bureau of Public Assistance Disbursements of the State Treasury and Executive Assistant to the State Treasurer in the Commonwealth, he has constantly exerted his efforts to promote social and economic welfare.

Congressman Flood is a dynamic member of several civic, fraternal and benevolent societies; an officer of the Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce; chairman of the United States Marine Corps Volunteer Reserve Committee; secretary of the Democratic Society of Pennsylvania; a member of the Board of Directors of the Wyoming Valley Motor Club; a member of the Board of Directors of Catholic Charities; a member of the Board of Trustees and Board of Governors of the Welfare Federation; special master for Railroad Reorganization; a member of the United States Circuit Court and a member of the President's Council of College Misericordia. He was formerly named Vice Chairman of the Special Committee to investigate the Katyn Massacre; and is at present a member of the Appropriations Committee, the Department of Defense Subcommittee and Subcommittee for the Army; and a member of the Subcommittee for the Department of Commerce and Related Agencies.

Congressman Flood's admirable record as a member of the House of Representatives from the 11th Congressional District of Pennsylvania reveals his constant and serious dedication to the improvement of every aspect of his neighbor's happiness and well-being. Cicero has referred to "that zeal for learning which in the case of wise and well-trained men advances in even pace with age." One might observe that our Congressman's zeal for learning, ever advancing with the years, has never been restricted to his own individual scholarly attainments. A statesman of noble stature, his practical knowledge benefits all residents of this section of our country. Particularly is this truth evidenced by his active concern for the improvement of institutions of higher education in Luzerne County and his firm endorsement of educational legislation affecting the status of all American citizens at home and abroad: the National Defense Education Act, the College Housing Program of the Housing and Home Finance Agency and the Urban Renewal and Redevelopment plan allowing for the expansion of colleges and universities. Thus during an illustrious career, Congressman Flood's social consciousness and practical charity have made him eager and quick to serve the brotherhood of man as well as the Fatherhood of God.

Wherefore, as the formal acknowledgment of his Distinguished Public Service and his loyal, continued and faithful support of higher education and as an enduring pledge of our honor, esteem, affection and gratitude, the President and Faculty of College Misericordia proudly present this Mercy Award to the Honorable Daniel J. F. Flood, M.C., LL.D.

Given at Dallas on this twenty-sixth day of May in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-Three and the year of our College, the thirty-ninth.

President Sister Mary Celestine, R.S.M.

Dean Sister Marianna, R.S.M.
